

To Whom It May Concern.

Herby I extend my warmest recommendations to the project that Prof. Dr. Med Knut Kvernebo and Dr. Theol. Niels Christian Hvidt have initiated regarding the experience of Myrna Nasour.

Prof. Kvernebo and Dr. Hvidt are known each in their field, Prof. Kvernebo in cardiology and blood circulation, Dr. Hvidt in theology where he has specialized in Christian prophecy and the theology of miracles. They have set down a team together with the following experts that are all respected for their scientific rigor and human nobility:

Goran Salerud, PhD, Professor of Biomedical Technology, Institute of Biomedical Engineering, University of Linköping, Sweden
Oivind Ekeberg, MD, PhD, Professor of Behavioral Sciences in medicine, Medical faculty, University of Oslo, Norway
Cato Mork, MD, Consultant, Dermatologist, Rikshospitalet, Oslo, Norway

I think it would be difficult to ask for a better team. Their aim is to give an objective and purely descriptive analysis of the phenomenon of the stigmata that Ms. Myrna Nasour has been graced to experienced on those Easter Thursdays where the dates of Easter where the same in the East and the West. I pray that the Lord will allow the same to happen during this Easter of 2004 where the dates coincide again. May it be a sign of God's intent to unify the dates of Easter as a step towards the reunification of Eastern and Western Christianity, a wish that also Pope John Paul II has as one of the primary wishes of his Pontificate. I pray for the same intention and it is my wish that this work of science can further this spiritual goal.

I encourage all who read this letter to open their doors and aid the purpose of this team so that they may be helped to fulfil this noble purpose to which I convey my Episcopal blessings.
