Reverend Father Elias ZAHLAOUI,

For years, you have regularly informed me of the Soufanieh events in Damascus, and in the world, I have followed that event with joy. It happened that I had frequently presided the Church ceremonies on its anniversary in one or another in Damascus.

Now I am pleased to learn that a new step in this concern is being achieved. It will acquaint a lot of people with these supernatural, spiritual events which take place in Damascus and in that very humble house. I mean translating into English the book of the French Journalist Christian RAVAZ, which was issued in 1988 in Paris. I am also pleased to learn that the people assuming responsibility for this work are members of "The Messengers of Lady Soufanieh" in North America.

I congratulate you, and I congratulate the people who are performing this work because this translation will certainly make a lot of people return to God, sanctify His Will and unify His Church as in the case of Soufanieh.

May God reward those taking on this initiative, and multiply the number of those listening faithfully and with love to His Voice. I give you and them all my supplication and blessing.
